THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

WAR HAS WIPED OUT FLOATING DEBT OF UNITED STATES.

John Skelton Williams, in a recent address at Frankfort, Ky., before the Kentucky Bankers Association, said in reviewing the first year of the war, that the United States had not only avoided a financial crisis, but had wiped out the floating debt of $350,000,000 due to Europe on Jan. 1, 1915, and absorbed between $750,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 of American securities that were held abroad and now is in condition to help finance the whole world at the conclusion of the war.

The income of the people of the United States over the expenses of living and available for development and investment, he said, amounts to $5,000,000,000 a year.

The total annual income of the people of this country from productive occupations he estimated at $30,000,000,000.

Mr. Williams named instances where some banks throughout the country had charged 50 per cent. to 2,400 per cent. on loans, and said that the system of allowing banks to charge interest according to their own wishes or the necessities of the borrowers would develop a spirit of Anarchy, Socialism and revolution and create a growing feeling of hostility against wealth and capital.

"Interest of 300 per cent.," he declared, "will make more Anarchists than all the I. W. W. orators who can howl and will create more hatred of property and corporations than all the demagogues who shout over the country."

A large majority of the national banks, he said, are conducting business on a high plane and are charging only reasonable interest.

"I know," said the Comptroller, "that the present administration has no thought of oppression of capital or of restriction on any use of it for the joint and fair advantage of its owners and the general public. The Government will encourage all reasonable use and application of capital, whether it be of the banks or the investor seeking fair return for his savings or surplus income."

"I want to make it plain that there is not, under this administration, any antagonism on the part of the Government toward the business interest of the country."

Two Children Had Croup.

The two children of J. W. Nix, of Cleveland, Ga., had croup. He writes: "Both got so choked up they could not breathe. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it completely cured them." Contains no opiates. Cuts the phlegm, opens air passages.

He was wandering aimlessly around in a department store when the floor-walker approached him.

"Looking for something?" he asked.
"Yes, my wife," replied the man.
"Describe her."
"Well, she's a sort of limousine with heavy tread and usually runs on low."

A clubman who poses as a humorist was having his shoes shined at a railway station.

"And is your father a bootblack, too?" he asked the boy at his feet.
"No," said the bootblack. "My father is a farmer up the State."
"Ah," said the humorist, as he reached for his notebook to make an entry, "he believes in making hay while the sun shines."

WHY IS TAZEWELL FIRM?

Because Its Citizens Have Learned The Truth.

After reading the generous and encouraging report of Mr. Hankins, those who have the misfortune to suffer, as he did, will naturally long to get some relief. But to get the same good as Mr. Hankins had, you should get the same remedy. There are, of course, other kidney pills but there are no other kidney pills the same as Doan's. That is why Tazewell people demand the genuine.

Thos. Hankins, retired merchant, E. Main street, Tazewell, says: "I have used Doan's kidney pills in the past and have found them to be a good kidney medicine. I have a great deal of confidence in them, because of the results I have had and gladly advise their use to any one who suffers from kidney complaint."

Price, 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's kidney pills, the same that Mr. Hankins had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHEAT CROP REACHES BILLION BUSHEL MARK.

The harvest in the United States this year will be the most valuable ever produced. With the wheat crop exceeding 1,000,000,000 bushels, the largest ever produced in one season by any nation, and a corn crop which also may prove to be the largest ever grown, the Government's October report, issued today, announced preliminary estimates which indicate record harvests of oats, barley, rye, sweet potatoes, rice, tobacco, and hay.

Wheat prospects cheered with the growing season and the Government's early season forecasts moved up monthly by month so that today's preliminary estimate of production was placed at 1,002,029,000 bushels. Wet weather at a harvest time, however, reduced the quality of winter wheat so that much of it will not be available for milling purposes and will have to be used for feed. At prices prevailing October 1 the farm value of the crop is $910,844,000, considerably more than ever was paid for a wheat crop before.

Corn still is king of crops, with indications of 3,026,159,000 bushels. While that is 29,000,000 bushels below the record of 1912, the final production, when the harvest is finished and all statistics compiled, may more than make up the difference. The higher prices this year assure the most valuable crop of corn ever grown. At prices to farmers prevailing October 1, the corn crop is worth $2,133,000,000.

September weather was destructive to potatoes, causing a reduction of 27,758,000 bushels or 10 per cent in the forecast of production. Tobacco also suffered from unfavorable conditions, which caused a decrease of 2,245,000 pounds in the production forecasts. Tobacco, however, promises to exceed the record crop of 1909 by 43,000,000 pounds.

SUN-FLOWER OIL.

The war as a teacher of economy is scoring new results from time to time even among a people as ready as economical as the Germans. The newspapers are calling attention to the extraordinary increase this year in the cultivation of the common sunflower; it is seen in great numbers in the gardens in the suburbs of Berlin and other cities and along railways everywhere. In previous years the only practical value of the plant was in feeding the seeds to birds, but this year the seeds are used to make an oil which is pronounced equal to the best olive oil for cooking purposes.

A writer is also pointing to future possibilities of the plant. The oil cake left after making oil, he says, is an excellent feed for animals. Whereas the seeds themselves can be roasted and used as a substitute for coffee, the young shoots and undeveloped leaves can also be cooked and eaten, as a palatable substitute for spinach.

In Belgium, too, the Germans are turning their thoughts toward discovering new uses for old and familiar plants. An agricultural weekly published by the Germans there has just been showing that tea can be made from tender, half grown leaves of the blackberry and raspberry plants which has all the qualities of its famous Chinese cousin, without its nerve disturbing effects.

Tailor Says, "Most Delightful"

Most tailors suffer from constipation. G. W. Robertson, Wichita Falls, Tex., says: "I find Foley Cathartic Tablets the most delightful, cleansing cathartic I have ever used." They keep the stomach sweet and liver active, and drive any biliousness, bloating, headache, dullness and other results of clogged bowels.

A GOOD THING, TOO.

The war business in homes is a good thing for the country any way you look at it. It will not seriously deplete the country's stock of horses. And it is making money for the farmer, for the railroads, for the ship owners, for the contractors, for the men who are supplying the feed, shoes, halters, disinfectants, medicines and for numberless others, all along the lines.

The only fellow who is not benefiting is the horse. And if he must go to feed the cannons, well, there are better than him doing the same. And for this human cannon food there is no credit balance to any one.—Ex.

NEWS NOTES OF FREELING.

Freeling, Va., October 8.—Edgar R. Beverly is attending the association of teachers held at Sand Lick.

Wiley B. Trivett is selling a considerable lot of lumber, oak, poplar and chestnut, to lumber dealers in Wise county.

The little twelve year old daughter of Creed Becker, whose illness was reported last week, is still in a very serious condition.

There is a heavy chestnut crop in this section. Most of the chestnut woods are in the Cumberland mountain. The chinquapins, or dwarf chestnuts, are about gone.

The corn crop in this immediate section is about normal, the acreage being larger than that of last year insures a large production.

Fleet Vanover and his family are preparing to return to their home at Craneco, W. Va., after a visit to relatives near Freeling.

Miss Croa Trivett, teacher in the Freeling school, is attending the Association of Teachers at Sand Lick.

Fall pasture is good, as the result of the rains the past two or three weeks.

Farmers are sowing wheat, and the acreage to be sown will exceed that of last year by at least twenty-five per cent.

Why Not Have An Organized System?

An organized system of fire protection is just as necessary in large stretches of forest as in the city. There should be patrolmen and watchmen who would constantly be on the watch for fires in dry times, and who should have
